MOBS INVADE U. S. EMBASSY ON FORMOSA

BULLETIN

Taipei, Formosa (AP)—Chinese mobs on an anti-American rampage wrecked the U. S. Embassy today and destroyed the U. S. Information Agency building. Later a mob of 20,000 or more besieged police headquarters, demanding the release of agitators seized in the anti-American riots. Tonight martial law was declared and three divisions of Chiang Kai-shek's troops poured into this tropical capital to maintain order. Many of the 11,000 American military and civilian personnel on Formosa were in danger at one stage. At least nine were injured by mob action. The Nationalist government, backed here since 1949 with the help of millions of dollars of military and economic aid, hastened to express regrets.

By SPENCER MOOSA

Taipei, Formosa (AP)—Chinese mobs went on an anti-American rampage today, ravaging the U. S. Embassy and U. S. Information Agency Office, besieging a military headquarters and chasing Americans on the street.

Nine Americans were injured. The American flag was hauled down from the embassy flagpole and torn to shreds.

Thousands of Chinese, worked up to a frenzy by the acquittal of a U. S. Army sergeant who killed a Chinese Peeping Tom, stormed the embassy, and spent most of the afternoon tossing broken furniture and torn documents through the windows.

The disorders spread and the mobs tried to invade the U. S. military communications center housing about 100 Americans who closed the storm gate and were besieged inside.

Another mob assaulted the U. S. Information Agency office and ransacked it in the same pattern as at the embassy. Furniture, papers, typewriters and equipment were wrecked and tossed out.

About 1,000 demonstrators formed before a police station in downtown Taipei.

"Uncle John" Behind in Work Before He Starts On New Job

By ELTON C. FAY

Washington (AP)—Rear Adm. "Uncle John" Hoskins is 'way behind in his work even before he starts on his new job.

Ahead is the task of deciding what should be done about removing secrecy labels from a mountain of documents, records, reports, histories and personal files. This material began to accumulate at the start of World War II and has been piling up since.

No one, including Hoskins who has been named director of the Pentagon's new Office of Declassification Policy, has much of an idea how many such items exist.

He says he has heard one guess that the volume is equivalent to something like 1,700,000 filing

Assists for Barbershoppers

An article on page 16 of Thursday's issue calling attention to the fact that the Warren Society of the Barber Shoppers Chorus is facing a financial problem in their plans to go to Los Angeles, Calif., next month to appear in International Competition, is bearing fruit. Heading a money-raising campaign, which it is hoped will snowball into a sizeable contribution toward the expenses, the Warren Council of Knights of Columbus at a meeting last evening voted to kick off the fund with a check for $25. Later it was decided that a hat be passed throughout the members present, and another $25 was realized. This morning Steve Krogler, Jr., grand knight of the K. of C. above left, presented a check covering the amount to Plummer Collins, right, president of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. Later this morning Jack Daley, for the Warren Super-Market, reported a check for $20 was waiting for the Barber Shoppers. Further contributions to the fund will be accepted by the Times-Mirror or may be sent direct to Plummer Collins, 9 Timothy street, North Warren.—Timesphoto by Saylor.

Beaty School Faculty Members Enjoy Outing

Faculty members who will not be returning to Beaty Junior High School in the fall were presented suitable gifts and best wishes at the annual outing of faculty members and guests at Wilder Field at Irvine Thursday afternoon.

Ralph Veights and Harry Spackman will teach at the high school; Mrs. Pat Huey and Mrs. Marza Kelly, are resigning; and Dan Goldthwaite, is taking a leave of absence to attend Penn State University.

The picnic proved a very enjoyable affair for the 85 persons in attendance, despite the fact that part of the afternoon was spent in dodging raindrops. A picnic supper and various games, including softball and tennis, were other highlights.

REPUBLICANS WEAKEN OVER FUND SLICING

Harrisburg (AP)—The first crack in the Republican budget-cutting rampart appeared today in the field of education.

It could spend even more.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, acknowledged that pressure was building up on his party to withdraw a portion of the 94½ million dollars in budget slashes already under way.

Johnson was reluctant to discuss action by the House Appropriations committee in increasing by a million dollars a plan to boost state aid to local school districts.

The Appropriations Committee hiked the school subsidy figures to $31,300,000 instead of the $30,300,000 previously agreed upon by Republican budget-writers.

It accepted new recommendations of the House Education Committee on the program. The old plan was dropped after meeting opposition from both rural and big-city legislators.

Vice Chairman Andrew W. Moscrip (R-Bradford) of the House Education Committee said the extra million was provided and other revisions made in order to silence some of the objections to the previous plan.

State aid for instruction—principally teachers' salaries—would be four millions less than planned under earlier legislation, Moscrip said. Three millions of that cut would be transferred toward boosting school transportation subsidies.

The remaining million taken from instruction and the extra million in the over-all size of the ap-

G. O. P. Fiscal Program Retains Real Estate Tax

Harrisburg (AP)—The Republican fiscal program of retaining current taxes at existing rates was complete today with the continuation for another two years of the 1 per cent real estate tax.

Gov. Leader signed the 4½-billion-dollar measure last night to round out a 1½-billion-dollar revenue program for the two-year fiscal period starting June 1.

The biggest single revenue-raiser in the GOP package is the 3 per cent sales tax which Republicans estimate will raise a half billion dollars in the next two years.

Battle Over Slash in Defense Funds Continue to Wage

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

Washington (AP)—The battle over a proposed 2½ billion dollar slash in new defense funds was waged in both House and Senate today.

House leaders opened debate on a $33,541,225,000 defense money measure carrying some 2½ billion less than President Eisenhower requested for the fiscal year starting July 1. No votes were expected until next week, perhaps Wednesday.

Meanwhile, Chairman Chavez (D-NM) called top Army leaders before his Senate Appropriations subcommittee. Secretary of the Army Brucker and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff were lined up to present the Army's case for more money.

White-thatched Secretary of Defense Wilson joined yesterday in the fight to avoid major cuts in defense outlays.

West German Chancellor Arrives in New York City

New York (AP)—Konrad Adenauer, West German Chancellor, said today West Germany knows its alliance with the West offers the best guarantee for the peace of the world and the reunification of Germany.

A party of 30 accompanied the chancellor. Included were his daughter, Mrs. Libert Werhann, and son, Georg.

The chancellor's schedule called for him to spend the day in New York then leave for Greenwich, Conn., for a visit until Sunday with a friend, Danny Heinemann. Sunday morning Adenauer will fly to Gettysburg to be President Eisenhower's personal guest. Later the two will go to Washington.

LIVING COSTS UP!

Washington (AP)—The government reported today that living costs rose to another record level in April for the eighth straight month. A sharp rise in food prices was a major factor. The Bureau of Labor Statistics said its index increased from March to April by three-tenths of one per cent. This was enough to give automatic pay boosts of two cents an hour to 1,400,000 workers in the auto, electrical and farm equipment manufacturing industries.

18 Eighth Graders Inducted in Nat'l Jr. Honor Society

Eighteen eighth graders and four ninth graders were inducted into National Junior Honor Society at ceremonies this morning during an assembly in Beaty School Auditorium. Present were grade nine students and parents of the newly-elected scholars.

Three Honor Society members, David Grady, Toni Pace and Victor Genberg welcomed parents and explained NJHS rules and purposes. Four other students spoke briefly about qualifications judged, John Tickner on scholarship, Barbara Yeagle on leadership, James Nordine, service and Joan Gough, character.

Separated Twins Are Reported as Doing Well

Youngstown, Ohio (AP)—The Freeman Siamese twins, separated in a four-hour operation yesterday, were reported in "satisfactory" condition at North Side Hospital today.

The twin boys, joined at the abdomen, were delivered by Caesarean section April 26 to Mrs. William Freeman, 23, who weighs less than 100 pounds.

A team of doctors, including four surgeons, performed the operation to separate them. They said the major part of the operation was "dividing a common liver."

The Ohio Crippled Children's Service Society will pay for the operation and for post-operational medical care.

Little Leaguer Injured During Practice Session

Tarentum (AP)—An 8-year-old Little League baseball player was critically injured last evening when a baseball backstop overturned in a wind storm and struck him on the head.

Daniel Barblaux, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barblaux of Brackenridge, suffered a skull fracture and brain concussion during a practice session of the Tarentum Indians at Dreshar Memorial Stadium.

He was taken to Allegheny Valley Hospital in Tarentum then rushed by ambulance to Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh.

Report Says Shortway May Not Be Started Until Next Year; Exact Route Is Undetermined

Harrisburg (AP)—Construction of the Keystone Shortway probably will begin next year, a federal road official said today.

"It's getting pretty late now to get construction going this year," the official, who asked not to be identified, told a newsman. "This means a great deal of engineering work before we pin down a line."

The exact route of the interstate artery, to stretch across Pennsylvania between Sharon and Stroudsburg, has yet to be determined. Its general course is expected to be confirmed soon by Bertram Tallamy, director of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads who announced federal approval of the project yesterday.

The bureau rejected an alternate proposal that Route 6 be included in the interstate network. But Gov. Leader announced after the federal decision that the Highways Department had ordered immediate resumption of a 29-million-dollar improvement program for Route 6. The program had been held up pending the shortway decision.

Leader and other state officials expressed pleasure with the federal action.

The route was chosen over an alternate proposal that would have routed the road from the Williamsport area toward Fort Jervis, N. Y., heading traffic for New England rather than New York, and over Route 6.

The estimated cost for the Sharon-Stroudsburg route was 289 million dollars. A route to Port Jervis would have cost 271 millions and that to improve Route 6 to meet federal requirements would have cost 281 millions.

The federal government will pay 90 per cent of the cost of the toll-free, limited access road and the state 10 per cent.

Youth Killed, Another Injured in Auto Crash

State police said Sovolla was driving. Neil R. Wilbur, 38, of New Stanton, the truck driver, was not hurt. Police said the boys car drove through a flashing red light.

FLOOD AID BILL PASSES

Harrisburg (AP)—Only Gov. Leader's signature was needed today to reopen the right of flood-ravaged communities to apply for state aid for roads. The Senate passed a House-approved bill last night to fix a new deadline of Sept. 30, 1957, to seek such state funds. The old deadline for communities hit by the August 1955 floods was last July.

Florida Judge In Custody Case Uses Wisdom of Solomon

By F. T. MACFEELY

Tallahassee, Fla. (AP)—"Simple right and justice require that Hildy McCoy's present home life should not be disturbed."

With those words, Gov. LeRoy Collins yesterday granted sanctuary in Florida to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Ellis, the Jewish foster parents of 6-year-old Hildy, born of an unwed Catholic mother.

Massachusetts—which has tried for four years to take the child away from the Ellises under a law requiring adoptions within religious faiths where possible—charged the Ellises with kidnapping Hildy.

The governor said that while he respected the right of the natural mother to have the child reared in her faith "it must yield to more fundamental rights."

A crowded hearing room applauded.

With joy shining through tears of relief, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis thanked the governor, the men and women of newspaper, radio and television who helped tell their story and the many thousands who wrote letters of encouragement.

The ordeal has cost the Ellises a home and a successful dry cleaning business in Massachusetts.

In her Hingham, Mass., home, Hildy's natural mother, Mrs. Marjorie McCoy Doherty, refused to discuss the decision. "No Comment," she told newsmen.

Well Known Vocalist Will Be Heard at Pool Benefit Dance

When dancers of Warren and surrounding areas gather in the Woman's Club ballroom Saturday night, in support of the club's Community Swimming Pool Benefit, they will find the George Johnson Band featuring a brand new vocalist.

James E. Johnson has made many friends in the community since he came here last fall as social studies instructor at Beaty Junior High School, but few have been aware of the fact that he is a vocalist of no mean ability, with a rich background of experience in that field.

Known professionally as Jimmy Johnson, he has been featured with a number of outstanding college bands and orchestras. At

WHITE HOUSE INTERESTED IN NEGOTIATIONS

Washington (AP)—The Seneca Indian Nation was heartened today by indications that President Eisenhower may be taking a personal interest in its fight against construction of a proposed flood control dam at Kinzua, Pa.

Waters backed up by the dam on the Allegheny River would flood an estimated 9,000 acres of the Seneca reservation in lower New York State.

Interior Secretary Fred Seaton assured President Cornelius Seneca at a meeting yesterday that his department will take steps to "see that you get a square deal."

"Just what that is I cannot define now," Seaton added. The cabinet member told Seneca he arranged the meeting at the direction of President Eisenhower and would report back to the chief executive.

Seneca told Seaton that the proposed dam would flood 8,000 acres of the reservation and displace some 250 Indian families. This, he said, would be in violation of a treaty the government made with his ancestors in 1794. Seaton said he had not had an opportunity to study the Kinzua proposal and its issues.

In reply to a charge by Seneca that the Indian Bureau apparently has minimized to Congress the position of the Indians, Seaton said he would take up the matter with Indian Commissioner Glenn L. Emmons.

Earlier, Seneca, attired in full head-dress, went to the national archives, and inspected the 1794 treaty which, he says, is binding and promises to leave his people undisturbed forever.

At Pittsburgh, Col. Harold M. Sprague, chief of Army Engineers in the Pittsburgh district, said dredging costs for a diversionary canal from the Allegheny River to Lake Erie alone would cost more than the proposed Kinzua project.

Opponents of Kinzua have suggested a diversionary canal as an alternate flood control measure.

Senate Passes Bill Lowering Age Limit For Voters In State

Harrisburg (AP)—The House today passed a measure calling for amendment of the State Constitution to give 18-year-olds the right to vote in Pennsylvania.

The Senate-passed proposal was approved 159-1 with the lone dissenting vote cast by Rep. James K. Davis (R-Forest).

The present legal age for voting in Pennsylvania is 21.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, told the House both political parties have endorsed granting the right to vote to teenagers.

This proposal would also have to be approved by the next legislature and then at a statewide referendum before it could become law. This is a constitutional requirement.

Rep. Albert S. Readinger, Democratic floor leader, also announced his party's endorsement of the measure.

Asked why he opposed the measure, Davis, a retired Navy rear admiral, replied:

"The qualities that will make a young man a good fighter, don't necessarily make him a good voter. It is just common sense."

Chaplain at Thiel College Is Speaker In Local Churches

The Rev. Martin L. Dolbeer, D. D., chaplain of Thiel College in Greenville, will be the speaker Sunday morning at services at First Lutheran church and St. John's Lutheran church. Dr. Dolbeer is a former missionary to India and, during his stay in that country, was supported by First Lutheran congregation.

Thiel College, where Dr. Dolbeer now serves, was founded in 1866 as a Christian College to serve the Pittsburgh Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America, as well as the surrounding area. There have been eight buildings constructed on Thiel's campus in its history, of which four have been erected since World War II. These four buildings consist of three dormitories and a library. Plans are under way for two more dormitories, of which one is under construction, and a science hall.

The hopes for Thiel's future are that it will be true to its history and tradition, seeking to integrate the mind of Christ with the academic community and that it will continue to become academically stronger, taking its place as a leader among Christian colleges in our nation.

There are a number of Warren youth who are students now attending this school and at least five from the community are planning to enter Thiel in the fall. Of these five three are members of First Lutheran congregation.

The Services at First Lutheran church at which Dr. Dolbeer will speak Sunday will be The Matins at 8:30 a. m. and The Service at 11:00 a. m. The Service at St. John's, Pleasant township, will be at 9:30 a. m. and the public is cordially invited.

In 1952 Mr. Spangler joined Sylvania as Industrial Engineer at the York, Pa., plant and was transferred to Warren in 1955 as Division Industrial Engineer. Prior to his employment with Sylvania he was associated with D. T. Randall & Co., Detroit, Mich., Armstrong Cork Co., Lancaster, and General Electric Co., York.

Mr. Spangler received a degree in Marine Engineering from the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy in 1945 and his Bachelor of Science in Industrial Engineering from Pennsylvania State University in 1948. He is a member of the Rotary, Warren Chamber of Commerce, Board of Directors of Warren Boys' Choir, A. I. E., Erie Chapter, and an honorary member of Alpha Sigma Phi. Mr. Spangler and his wife, Janice, both natives of York, reside at 800 Hill street, Warren. They have one daughter.

MY FIRST

Checks are an old story to us, and it was a revelation the other day to overhear a nineteen-year-old secretary tell a friend about her first payment by check.

"There it was, a piece of paper. I wrote a few words on it, signed my name, and it was as good as money—but safer and less trouble."

It was wonderful, and we realized it from her feeling of surprise and achievement.

Forestry Group Seeks Action on Deer Damage

New Hope (Special)—The Pennsylvania Forestry Association has again called for action to curb damage to new forest growth by "excessive numbers of browsing deer."

The group, at a recent two-day meeting here, reaffirmed previous resolutions urging the Game Commission to "set such seasons and limits for the taking of deer as will ensure recreational harvest of the annual surplus."

Calling the situation "perhaps the state's most serious forestry problem today," Lloyd A. Partain of Philadelphia, president, said in some sections of the state where the economy depends on continued production and harvest of forest crops the establishment of future crops is "virtually impossible because browsing deer are destroying the new young seedling growth."

The association, representing about 1,300 members from all walks of life interested in forestry, also unanimously passed a resolution urging favorable action on House Bill 914 which would place Departments and Waters technical personnel under Civil Service.

John S. Barr is general chairman for the parade and has prepared an impressive list of prizes, which has been sent to all posts in the area and which will total $1,000.

Planning for this July convention got under way last fall, with representatives of all counties in the district named to the convention committee by District Commander Frank Masson, of Sheroon.

Working with Chairman Buerkle are John J. Antonini, Ridgway, and Aiden Stearns, Sugar Grove, as vice chairmen; also John Ohlin, of Kersey; Robert Urey, Franklin; Albert Canon, West Middlesex; James McMurray, St. Marys. Mr. Masson is a member of the committee ex officio.

Convention plans to date indicate an outstanding day, in which the entire Legion program will be outlined, should be forthcoming.

All that certain piece or parcel of land situate in the Township of Spring Creek County of Warren, State of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows: BEGINNING at the Northwest corner of the lands of George and Wilbur Gleason in the North line of the whole tract, and running thence South by the lands of said Gleasons, two hundred sixteen (216) rods to the South line of the whole tract; thence West by the tract line, thirty-seven and one-tenth (37.1) rods to a Post; thence North parallel with the West line of said Gleasons two hundred sixteen (216) rods to a post in the North line of the whole tract; thence East along the North line of the whole tract, thirty-seven and one-tenth (37.1) rods to the place of beginning. Hannah covering said premises dated June 6, 1927, and recorded in Warren County Mortgage Book 30, page 572, July 28, 1904, conditioned for the payment of two hundred ($200.00) dollars That on June 6, 1927, Anna H. Smith, Executrix of the estate of Jane C. Hannah, assigned the mortgage to Anna H. Smith, individually, assignment being dated June 6, 1927 and recorded in Warren County Mortgage Book 74, page 464, June 13, 1927, and that a period of twenty one (21) years has elapsed since the principal of said mortgage became due and payable, and no payment has been made within said period of either principal or interest, and praying for satisfaction thereof.

Decker was the mortgagor. There has never been any demand for payment of interest or principal or any part thereof of the mortgage referred to by the will of Edward D. Decker, either of the plaintiff or his predecessors in title.

Unless you plead to the Complaint within twenty (20) days from the date of this notice, the Court will be asked to decree that you be forever barred from asserting any right, lien, title or interest in the land inconsistent with the claim of plaintiff set forth in his complaint.

She's the Only Woman—

Deciding Veteran Organization Affairs

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The way for a woman to get ahead in a man's field is to be a charming woman.

This is the simple philosophy which enabled Air Force Capt. Dorothea McLaughlin to crack one of the last barriers to females and become the first woman to head a veterans' organization.

She has just been unanimously elected president of the Reserve Officers Association Air Force group in the District of Columbia.

"I found that the feminine touch was welcomed as soon as I joined this organization, which had traditionally been dominated by men," she explains. "When there were small parties or any social function I just went out of my way to be a good hostess and the men appreciated it," she admits modestly.

Recently Capt. McLaughlin proved to her ROA male comrades that her charm was essential to the organization when the group honored Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) at a big party. "Dorothea's planning and hostessing made the event a success," a member reports.

CAPT. McLAUGHLIN is stationed at the AF branch of the ROA.

Capt. Dorothea McLaughlin

Base. She did not join the ROA to make a career out of it or try to tell them how to run their business.

But since she has done what no other woman has ever done in a veterans' organization, she is exercising her feminine right to change her mind. She has some pretty positive ideas on how the AF branch of the ROA should conduct its affairs.

plans to carry them out. "I think separate chapters of the Air Force ROA should be created around the special activities of its members," she says. "For example, there would be individual chapters of officers in operations, maintenance or research," she explains.

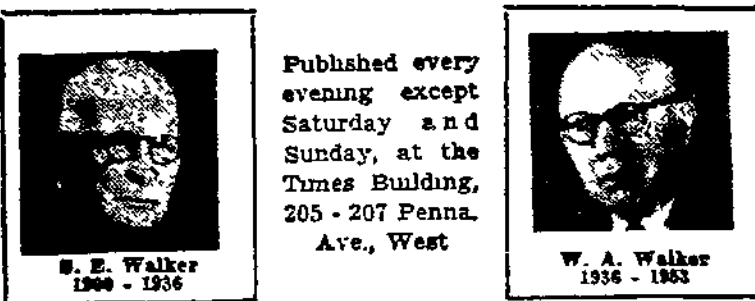

SHE'S ABOUT TO launch a membership drive with this objective in mind. Another long-range objective is getting women to become more active in all U.S. veterans' organizations. "If we don't we'll lose all that we have gained in the service," she insists.

Dorothea's job in the Air Force carries the impressive title of Director of Special Projects in the Office of Deputy Chief of Staff for Personnel at Headquarters Command, USAF. "What it amounts to is social work," she explains. "We handle the special problems of the misfits, the delinquents and those who haven't adjusted to service life," she says.

She entered the USAF in the first WAF class to be established in 1948 and was commissioned in June 1949. Before that she was a social worker for the West Virginia Department of Public Assistance after attending West-hampton College, Richmond, Va.

KEYSTONE SHORTWAY DECISION

As was anticipated and predicted the Bureau of Public Roads has approved the Keystone Shortway route as a part of the Federal Interstate Highway system stretching across northern Pennsylvania, a decision which meets with considerable disappointment on the part of the "Save Route 6" committee, but comes as no great surprise.

It is reassuring, however, to learn that the committee is determined to continue its efforts to have Federal and state officials concentrate on making Route 6 a highway that will rate among the leaders in the east in attracting tourist travel for its scenic and historic attractions.

In Bradford, as was stated in Thursday's issue Harry G. Garvin, chairman of the "Save Route 6" Committee which opposed the Shortway in favor of placing Route 6 on the Interstate system, said "we are very disappointed up here. We have lost but we will go along with the governor."

Garvin says "this decision leaves Route 6 a long way from any east-west superroad such as the Pennsylvania-New York Thruway and the Pennsylvania Turnpike."

Commenting on the statement of B D Tallamy, Federal Highways Administrator, about 6 being eligible for 50 per cent Federal aid, Garvin says: "We knew all along that Route 6 would be a 50-50 road. There's no change there. It has always been a 50-50 federal highway."

Garvin says the main reason given by Leader in favor of the shortway was that it would help distressed areas.

"These are not main reasons for designating interstate routes," Garvin says.

Garvin says Leader and Lawler described the Route 6 area as "topnotch scenic" country and quoted them as saying the scenic values would be spoiled if Route 6 were placed on the interstate system.

"We are going to take Mr. Leader and Mr. Lawler up on their statements and ask them to help us make our scenic values available to the nation," he said.

The decision means that the Shortway—so-called because it was boomed originally as the shortest route between Chicago and other Midwestern cities and New York—will be paid for by 90 per cent federal money and the remainder by the state.

Although exact details remain to be worked out, the route will follow generally a line reaching across the state from Sharon in the west to the Stroudsburg area in the east.

It will be built as a toll-free limited access road as part of the federal government's new 41,000-mile interstate highway network.

RURAL LIFE SUNDAY

More than 1,250,000 Pennsylvania rural church people will participate in the national observance of Rural Life Sunday on May 26, announces the Rev. W. Francis Allison, Wilkes-Barre, state chairman of the Division of Town and Country Church of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches.

Since the fifth century, special blessings have been asked on the fruits of the earth during the Rotation Days, the three days before Ascension Day. This historic tradition survives today in the celebration of Rural Life Sunday on the fifth Sunday after Easter.

In churches all over the commonwealth worshippers will be reminded that, although scientific knowledge has enabled man to overcome some of the difficulties which plagued farmers a few generations ago, it has not made him independent of the soil and of God.

Ministers will ask God's blessings on those who sow the seed and reap the harvest, who tend the flocks and herds, who till the soil, who go down to the sea in ships, who labor in the forests and mines.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, Today shalt thou be with me in paradise.—Luke 23:43.

Christ is our Passover!
And we will keep the feast
With the new leaven,
The bread of heaven—
All welcome, even the least!

—A. R. Thompson.

The Winner

Here and There

American Legion Post and Auxiliary members have completed plans for the annual sale of their work. In recent years there have been cases in which petty swindlers wearing overseas caps and sometimes claiming to represent nonexistent organizations, have conducted poppy drives of their own. For this reason the Legion and Auxiliary and other reputable organizations have called on the public to make sure that its contributions are not wasted.

The poppy worn to honor America's war dead has its roots in France. The seeds of today's poppy program were sown there as the First World War was drawing to a close. Then hostile men faced each other from trenches which ran from Switzerland through Belgium and France to the North Sea. Destruction and devastation and death were everywhere on the battlefields, and a plague seemed to hang over the land.

But as American soldiers fought along rivers and on the hills and in the valleys they often wore little red poppies in their helmets. The poppies were the only living things that had survived, and indeed appeared to thrive, in the midst of war. These hardy reminders of better times were also reminders of the many comrades who had given their lives in bringing the war so close to its end.

Poppies were first worn to honor the war dead November 9, 1918, in New York City, when Miss Moira Michael, of Athens, Ga., who was serving on the staff of the YMCA Overseas Headquarters, distributed them to men attending the 25th conference of the Association.

It was not until 1920 that Miss Michael interested Georgia Legionnaires in wearing the poppy in memory of the war dead, and in August 1920 The American Legion of that State adopted it as the Department's memorial flower. One month later the Georgia delegation took the idea along to the Legion National Convention in Cleveland, Ohio, and the Convention adopted the poppy as the national memorial flower of The American Legion. The Legion thus became the first national organization to adopt the poppy as its memorial flower, and the Auxiliary did likewise when it held its organizing convention in Kansas City, Mo., in October of that year. Other veterans organizations in this country have since followed suit, and the poppy is also the memorial flower of the British Legion.

The Auxiliary later decorated Miss Michael with its Distinguished Service Medal and awarded a Certificate of Merit to Mrs. Hanecy.

Memorial poppies were first sold on a nationwide basis by the Legion and Auxiliary in 1921. At first the artificial poppies were made by French disabled veterans and widows and orphans, but by 1922 the first poppies made by American veterans were produced in hospitals in Minnesota.

The poppies worn in 1921 were made of silk, but the one you will wear on Memorial Day is made of crepe paper because it can be easily worked and materials are inexpensive. Today poppies are made by disabled veterans in more than 80 hospitals and workrooms in some 40 States.

All in all, the observance of Poppy Day gives substance to the promise Miss Moira Michael made in her poem To Keep the Faith: "And now the torch and poppy red We wear in honor of our dead Fear not that ye have died for naught, We've learned the lesson that ye taught In Flanders' fields."

Washington Letter

BY PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Announcement that U.S. Matador guided missiles are now in position on Formosa for the defense of that island has loosed a new Chinese Communist propaganda drive.

Its purpose is to accuse the United States of preparing an atomic attack against the Chinese mainland.

The fact of the matter is that stationing U.S. Air Force guided missile units on Formosa is intended solely to deter the Red Chinese from making any attempts to take the island by force. This is why the move was made public and not kept as a military secret.

Red China's own aggressive moves in this area have not been so well publicized. The Communist military build-up on the mountainous, desolate coast around Amoy, opposite Formosa, has been continuous since the Korean shooting stopped.

JUST A FEW days after the Matador announcement was made the Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa announced that 600 rounds of heavy artillery had been fired on the coastal islands of Quemoy and Matsu in the heaviest gun battle of the year.

If the Red Chinese should launch an all-out attack, the Matador is an almost perfect answer. It has a jet engine giving it a speed of over 650 miles an hour. Its range is 600 miles. From Formosa to the mainland is 100 miles.

So if the Reds want to start anything from their bases within 300 miles of the coast, the Matador with an atomic warhead could knock them out in an hour's time.

THE DECISION to base Matadors on Formosa was made after long and careful consideration of what the psychological warfare effects of such a counterattack might be.

A clue to this is found in Philip Wylie's latest book, "The Innocent Ambassadors."

Before he left for the Far East, Author Wylie was called to Washington. He was asked to sound out what Oriental public opinion would be if the U.S. should use atomic weapons again—this time against Chinese mainland military targets.

It was admitted at the start that such an attack would not be another Hiroshima or Nagasaki attack on a city. Still, a lot of people might get killed.

Wylie made his own poll among Americans and Europeans he met in the Orient. Among these, he reports "All but one—an English editor—agreed and could not be shaken from the opinion that any such assault by this nation would cost the free world the last shred of a diminishing sympathy in the Orient and all Asia."

"THE ENGLISHMAN thought that... the Red Chinese, though doubtless at first enraged, would ultimately react with respect for the Atomic Tiger—and a new hope for their own liberation. That was also the view taken at home by a few self-styled 'old China hands.'"

But Wylie concludes that: "When we left Hong Kong, I was certain it was a mistaken view."

Wylie explains that, "My question, of course, always assumed that the U.S.A. first used such weapons. For no one would deny America the military right to reply with nuclear weapons to nuclear attack."

"But we Americans are prone to disregard the simple fact that the U.S.A. has already once atomically assaulted a nation... A second nuclear holocaust deemed unprovoked would certify to the world that the ethics and humanitarianism of Washington were lower than Moscow's."

Children Should Appreciate
Mother's Sacrifice in Work

If a mother works because she hates housework or thinks an office job is easier and more interesting than full-time homemaking, her children may have a right to feel resentful at her choice.

But when a mother is working so that the family can own a home or so that her children can get a college education, the children should be taught to appreciate the working mother's contribution to their welfare.

They also should be expected to pitch in as soon as they are old enough and help with household chores.

The mother of a 15-year-old girl told me: "I'm sorry Joan has to do so much of the housework. But she doesn't seem to mind. She knows I am working long hours six days a week so that she and her brothers can have a college education."

"The boys understand, too, and they both have after school jobs that give them their own spending money and help pay for their clothes."

That family isn't suffering from the mother's working—because the children understand why she is working, approve of the goal she is working toward and have been made to feel responsible for carrying part of the load.

WINS ADMIRATION

FURTHERMORE, the mother's job doesn't meet with any resentment from her family. Husband and children admire her for the spunk that made her go out and get a job when she realized that if the whole family pulled together every child in the family could have the opportunity of a college education.

So whether it is right or wrong for a mother to work depends on three things: her steadfastness in working toward a definite and worthwhile goal, her ability to make her family appreciate her contribution and her ability to delegate work and responsibility so that the whole family is pulling together.

Grace Church Wedding

Shirley J. Buchanan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Buchanan of 312 West Fifth avenue, because the bride of Richard J. Bertsch, son of George Bertsch and the late Neva Burch, 244 Pennsylvania avenue, west, in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. C. W. Baldwin at 2:00 p. m. May 11 in Grace Methodist church.

An all-white floral setting was used on the altar. Richard Pratt was at the organ and Robert Buchanan of Berea, O., brother of the bride, sang "Because," "Walk Hand in Hand," "Thine Alone" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore white nylon tulle over satin, seed pearls embroidered on the bodice and embroidered points cascading into a bouffant ballerina skirt. Her veil of imported silk illusion was caught to a pearl-embroidered julep cap and she carried lilies of the valley centered with an orchid.

As matron of honor for her sister-in-law, Mrs. Joanna Buchanan wore nylon velvety over pink taffeta, with a pink pearl halo holding her circular veil, and carried blue and white carnations. Rita Lucia and JoAnn Compher, bridesmaids, wore white over blue and carried pink and white carnations. The flower girl was Debra Krupey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Krupey, wearing eyelet embroidered organza over turquoise with turquoise satin sash. Her headband was of matching shade and she carried a basket of assorted flowers.

Robert Rieder was best man; ushering were Thomas Yeagle and Thomas Rhodes, Johnstown.

Aldersgate Event In Local Parishes

May 26 will be known as Aldersgate Sunday for people of Epworth - Stoneham Methodist parishes, the theme of morning worship services to be based on the heartwarming experience of John Wesley, founder of Methodism.

On May 24, 1738, Wesley went with troubled heart to a Sunday evening prayer meeting in Aldersgate street in London. He left this meeting a new man in Christ and preached a Gospel for 50 years that changed the mind of industrial England, instigated the Methodist church, revitalized much of Protestantism.

Rev. Reed Hurst will speak on the subject, "Kindled By Love"; Epworth Junior Choir will sing "Temple Bells," arranged by Lorenz.

Gathered From The Party Line

The Rev. Gregory Rowley, vicar of Warren county Episcopal missions, was in Jamestown, Va., last week to serve as assistant chaplain at the 350-year old Tower church, and has been invited to return in the same capacity during the month of August. He reminds that St. Francis of Assisi church, Youngsville, will be an informational center on the Jamestown Festival this summer, with information and free literature available at the vicarage.

It has been learned here that Mr. and Mrs. Merl McManus, 180 Fairmount avenue, Jamestown, N. Y., former residents of Russell and Warren, were honored recently at open house for their 50th wedding anniversary. The affair was given by their children, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McManus, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Little, and daughter, Bertha Hazel.

A delegation of 18 Warren county members enjoyed a wonderful Wednesday at First Methodist church at Titusville, where they attended a five-county WCTU Workshop. Represented were unions from Crawford, Erie, Forest, Warren and Venango counties.

Among those participating was Mrs. Edith Kapp of Tidioute, who is president of Warren County WCTU, and led the educational, Sunday school, and public school discussion; the state president, Mrs. Emma O. Leonard, who answered questions put by the unions in the morning and spoke capably in the afternoon; state secretary of Loyal Temperance Legion, who showed teaching materials; and the state director of visual education.

Venango County Union extended an invitation to all interested to attend the 75th WCTU anniversary at Oil City EUB church August 20.

Advancing years present money problems entirely different from those of youth or middle age. Income needs are usually not as great, but safety becomes much more vital. We always welcome an opportunity to help work out a security program that will make the most of those golden years. The benefit of our many years of experience is yours without charge.

Highlights in Book of Genesis

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
I THINK it would be admitted that there are highlights and "lowlights" in the Book of Genesis—the book of beginnings. What was then begun, in both highlights and low, has continued and been reflected in the history of mankind. The first murder was the beginning of murders; the sins of Sodom and Gomorrah, the defects and delinquencies that are by no means confined to juveniles, all reveal how modern man is linked with man in the beginning, and how very little, man at his worst, has changed. But, fortunately, there is another story, and the highlights of Genesis in revealing man at his best are very high indeed. The figure of Abraham stands in that day of beginnings as supremely a man of faith and peace, with whom the modern quest of peace has not yet caught up. In spirit, method, and achievement as a peacemaker, Abraham set an example that sets one thinking what a different world of men this would have been if his example had been followed. That story of how Abraham settled peacefully the strife between his herdsmen and Lot's is one of the greatest of all stories. And beside it is the other story of how Abraham acted when Lot's bad choice got him in trouble when he "pitched his tent toward Sodom" (Genesis 13:12). When he saw Lot and his family about to be doomed in the wicked cities he did not say, "I told you so." He did not even gloat in his own rectitude over the prospective destruction of the wicked, as a lesser moralist might have done. He was concerned lest the innocent should be condemned with the guilty. Not only was he concerned with the protection of the righteous remnant, but he made his plea in a manner that profoundly manifested his belief in a righteous God. We are so familiar with the conception of God as a Father, and God of Love, in the later Jewish prophets and the New Testament that I wonder whether we grasp the daring and grandeur of Abraham's belief in God as a person, toward whom he approached, not in superstition or abject fear, but with whom he dared to reason about righteousness. When one contrasts that with the bowing down to wood and stone, and with the imputation of all sorts of human defects and weaknesses to gods and goddesses by the Greeks and Romans, one must appreciate the significance of Abraham's faith. One can also understand the Jewish commandment about graven images, much as it conflicts with appreciation of the glories of Greek and other sculpture. The one regrettable lapse in Abraham was the matter of the denial of his wife, Sarah (Genesis 20), which seems so inconsistent with everything else concerning him, that it is hard to understand. It is an evidence of the frank honesty of the Bible that the incident was not suppressed. Perhaps it stands to remind us that even the great pioneer of faith and peace was not perfect, and that the life and times were primitive. Would that "progress" had made in all things a better modern story of mankind, for the highlights of Genesis are very high.

Severe Weather Is Still Lashing Many Sections of Nation

By The Associated Press

Severe weather which has lashed the nation during the week swept into Texas during the night. Arkansas appeared hardest hit by the violent weather, with tornadoes and torrential rains in many areas. The stormy weather occurred in the hot and humid air that extended from Texas eastward across the Gulf states and northeastward to points south of the Ohio River through the lower Great Lakes to New England and the Atlantic seaboard.

While southwest Arkansas was under a severe weather alert last night, tornadoes lashed Monticello, in the southeastern part of the state.

Most areas in Texas were hammered again by violent weather, with tornadoes, heavy rain and hail. Three twisters were reported near Winters, Marshall and Mt. Pleasant, with two persons injured at Winters.

Mobs Invade

A U. S. court-martial found the sergeant innocent yesterday of charges of voluntary manslaughter of a Chinese caught looking through a bathroom window while his wife was taking a shower. A guard of 67 armed police escorted Reynolds and his family to the airport.

The outburst followed bitter at- tacks by Taipei newspapers against the acquittal of Reynolds.

Obviously, however, the mob was motivated as much or more by the fact that an American soldier had been exonerated by an Ameri- can court for the killing of a Chinese.

Wide Search Waged for Woman Feared Kidnaped

Pittsburgh (P)—An intensive search was begun in a wooded area near Elizabeth Twp. today for a 44-year-old woman reported miss- ing since Tuesday. Her family fears she may have been kidnaped.

Allegheny County detectives moved into the cast last night after Mrs. Mildred M. DeVirgilio was officially listed as missing.

He family told officers Mrs. DeVirgilio was last seen about 10 p. m. Tuesday when she drove a woman companion home from a prayer meeting in nearby Mc- Keesport.

The family told officers Mrs. DeVirgilio had been receiving threatening notes and phone calls for more than six months.

Officers said a man, whom they did not identify, set fire to the DeVirgilio home last January. They also said she had fired a shot- gun at an intruder who attempted to enter the family residence.

Schedule for Sunday Services at Jamboree

One of the highlights of the Camporee will be the Jamboree practice camp, with the 40 boys who will represent Chief Corn- planter Council at Valley Forge this summer erecting the tents they will use at the Jamboree, and cooking four meals of the Jam- boree menu. The stoves, equip- ment and charcoal cooking will all be in the Jamboree fashion.

Wm. Muir, council activities chairman will be in charge of the camporee, and Richard Bauer, field scout executive, will be camp chief. Earl Mohrkern and Don Lauffer will head up the judging.

News-Writing Class in Salute to High Seniors

The Warren High School news- writing class salute the 1957 graduates in the following spe- cially-prepared paragraphs:

"The members of the class of 1957 will be in classes for the last time next Monday when their final tests will be completed and all final obligations to the school met.

"Envious underclassmen, con- trasting their sad lot with that of the senior class, will be attending thru June 7. Mr. Passaro, prin- cipal, has made plain that all students in classes combined with seniors will continue on till the final day arrives.

"Seniors are finding with the school year coming to a close that they will have memories always pleasant to remember. The events that have taken place in this school year will certainly live on in the minds of those that have taken part. So with an auf Wiedersehen, adios, and just an ordinary good-bye, we bid the sen- iors farewell. For the last time they are leaving the second stage of their educational activities, the secondary school."

Culligan Blasts Valones, Nino Nips Youngville in Softball

Culligan's Soft Water administered a hard beating to Valone's last evening at Memorial field when they drowned them 18 to 1 in a deluge of 16 hits. The second City Softball League game saw Nino's Restaurant edge Youngville National Bank 14 to 2.

Pitcher K. Sorenson allowed Valone's only six hits and a single eighth-inning run while Culligan's first sacker R. Carlson was individual hitting star of the game, lamming 4 of 6. Doubles went to Bevevino, Bartholomew and Carlson for the victors. Still poling for the losers.

J. Papalia gave up 12 hits to Nino's including a round-trip to lugger Blair. Vigio allowed 17 to Youngville, including a double and homer to Chitester, but the Westners could only put together 12 runs, while Nino's squeezed 14 out of 12 hits.

Zdanko, McClement, Giglio hit for 2 for Nino. Pollard tripled and doubled for Bankers, and Knight and Maze both hit for 2 twice.

More Streams in National Forest Are Reported Stocked

It was announced today by Headquarters of Allegheny National Forest that the Pennsylvania Fish Commission and U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service had stocked the following streams within the National Forest during the week: East Hickory Creek, Spring Creek, Sugar Run, North Branch Sugar Run, Chapel Fork, South Branch Kinzua Creek, Kinzua Creek, Lewis Run, Farnsworth Branch, Brown Run, Two Mile Run.

The above stocking schedule is expected to provide excellent fishing during the next two weeks and furnish sport to the angler over the Memorial Day weekend.

This is the season when the fly fisherman comes into his own and there have been reports of several fine catches during the past week. Not only does Dad have a chance to display his skill, but Mom and the kids can try their luck or just spend a few days enjoying the natural scenic beauty of this great National Forest.

Supervisor Bacon stated that fire danger is now low and the forest can be used and enjoyed without the fear of a possible careless act with fire causing a serious conflagration.

Akins Favored To Take Beecham in TV Bout Tonight

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

Washington (AP)—Virgil Akins, the St. Louis veteran, was an early 7-5 favorite to defeat Jimmy Beecham of Miami in their 10-round welterweight bout at Capitol Arena tonight.

Support for the 22-year-old Beecham rested on conquests of the once highly regarded Hector Constancia and on recent creditable performances. But it wasn't enough to offset the liking for Akins' experience and punching ability.

Akins, 29, is fourth or fifth-ranked challenger for Carmen Basilio's welter crown, depending on whom you consult—Ring Magazine or the National Boxing Association. Beecham is unranked.

A craving for recognition prompted him to take the Akins fight on short notice.

Promoter Goldie Ahearn and the International Boxing Club looked up Beecham after Randy Sandy, previously matched with Akins, reported a cut eye would make him unavailable.

As it finally takes shape, the nationally broadcast and televised—NBC, 10 p. m. EDT—fight is a complete replacement for the originally scheduled Paolo Rosi-Joe Lopez lightweight battle. That was wiped out when Rosi hurt a hand several weeks ago.

60 Are Signed Up for Jaycees' Tennis Tourney To Start 31st

Approximately 60 contestants were reported signed up today for the second annual junior tennis tournament which is scheduled to begin May 31 on Beaty Field courts. An application blank appears in today's publication.

John Leathers, an instructor at Beaty School, is in charge of the event this year for youngsters between the ages of 12 and 18 inclusive. Any boy or girl in Warren County may enter.

There will be a junior and senior division. Junior section is for boys and girls from 12 years of age to those who were 15 or under on January 1, 1957. Senior division is for boys and girls over 15 and who were 18 and under January 1, 1957.

All events will be singles. There will be a boy and girl winner in each division and these four will be eligible to compete in the Jaycees state-wide competition at York in early July.

Should the kids win there, the national finals are set for August 6 to 10 at Santa Monica, Calif.

All entry blanks should be returned to John Leathers at Beaty Junior High School by Tuesday of next week. Entry blanks should include name, address, age, plus the stipulation that each entry will provide a new can of three tennis balls for the event. Those already signed up are keeping a blistering pace on Beaty courts which are filled from noon to dark.

Penguins are descendants of ancient birds that had normal flying wings, but they lost the ability to fly millions of years ago.

MADDERN LIFE GUARD—Pat Madden above, will serve as life guard this summer at Conewango Valley Country Club pool which opens for the season Memorial Day. Besides serving as watchman, Pat will be conditioning himself for the 3-mile swim across Conneaut Lake and the 1-1/4 mile sprint to conquer Chautauqua Lake in July, having won laurels in those events before. Pat is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Madden, 814 Pennsylvania avenue, west.

First Sports Car Races in This Area Set for Dunkirk June 1-2

First sports car races ever staged in this area will be presented by Western New York Region of Sports Car Club of America at Dunkirk Airport on Saturday and Sunday, June 1 and 2. These races will be sponsored by Dunkirk and Fredonia Jaycees and all proceeds will be given to charities designated by them.

Saturday, June 1, will be devoted to practice for all contestants and two races for novice drivers who are attempting to obtain competition licenses. A schedule of six races for all displacement classes is planned for Sunday, June 2. In these races only experienced drivers will be allowed to compete.

A 2.2-mile course has been laid out on the Dunkirk Airport. This course is designed to duplicate actual road conditions and includes bends, curves, hairpin turns. It should prove a severe test of abilities of amateur drivers competing.

A wide variety of cars has been entered ranging from tiny 750 cc Siatas to "D" type Jaguars and Ferraris. Also appearing will be M. G.s, Austin-Healeys, Triumphs, Corvettes, A. C. Bristols, Lotuses, Elvas and a number of other types usually not seen in this area. During test runs held on the course, the larger cars have attained speeds of well over 150 mph on the main straight.

All cars will be subjected to a rigid safety inspection on Friday, May 30.

Communications and safety provisions will be directed during both practice and the races by the Race Communications Association, a volunteer group which has functioned most efficiently the past five years.

Deluxe Tour for Boys Is Scheduled for July

A deluxe tour, advertised in today's columns, for boys 10 to 15 years of age should prove an exciting, educational and intensely interesting 11 vacation days of travel and sightseeing for those lads fortunate enough to make this trip in care of three men escorts and a registered, trained nurse.

Originating in Erie, with registrations limited to 33, quotas have been assigned each community in the Erie area. Warren has a quota of four boys. Tour leaves Erie July 18th returning July 28th.

An interesting folder describing the tour can be had by dropping a card to the address in today's ad.

Grow Your Own Vitamins Following This Easy Plan

Measure straight lines for best seed sowing results.

A straight line makes the shortest path to success in laying out a vegetable garden.

Because your rows of seedlings should run north and south to get the sunlight's even distribution, the ideal garden shape is oblong, with the short side also running north and south.

With short rows, the gardener isn't tempted to sow more of any one vegetable than his family and friends can use. Short rows are easy to cultivate by hand and also save time in dividing the plot among different crops.

Square up the corners of the boundary line and make the rows exactly parallel with the sides. An exception to the rule for straight rows may be made in hilly country, where the wash of soil may be checked by contour planting. Here rows should run at right angles to the slope, but they should still be parallel, though on rounded slopes they will be curved.

Winding and uneven rows will double the gardener's work in cultivating the plants and also make the plot look sloppy.

Two factors should influence the spacing of the rows — the needs of the crop and the convenience of cultivation. In rich soil, vegetables can be spaced closer than they would be in poorer soil. When placed too close, however, it is difficult to cultivate between the rows.

For plants growing twelve inches tall or less, rows may be spaced ten inches to a foot apart and cultivated with hand tools. For cultivation with a wheel hoe, eighteen inches is likely to be found a minimum distance, since it is necessary to avoid disturbing the roots of the vegetables, whatever tool is used.

Taller vegetables, and those that make vines, large bushes or have a sprawling habit, must be given more distance between rows. In small gardens, four feet will usually be the maximum distance, given only for such crops as bush squash and cucumbers.

First, decide on the crops you will grow, which should be those that your family favors, or needs for good health. Next, determine the quantity of your needs—including what you will eat during the season and what you will preserve for next winter. In this way you won't overproduce—and everyone in the family will get a fair share of his favorite vegetable while it is still crisp and delicious, fresh from the soil.

Those were the reasons two young Buffalo girls gave for running away from home yesterday. Under questioning they admitted they had run away from home.

Parents of one of the girls arrived in town today to pick up the youngsters at the detention room in county jail where the pair had spent the night.
